

M&K Sound · Denmark · www.mksound.com

M&K Sound Announces Audio Collective Group as Exclusive U.S. Distribution of M&K Sound Loudspeakers

For Immediate Release

Copenhagen, Demark - April 7, 2026 – Audio Collective Group (ACG) is now the exclusive United States distributor for M&K Sound, a legendary loudspeaker brand widely regarded as one of the leading choices for high-performance home theater systems worldwide.

Since 1974, M&K Sound has helped define cinematic home theater, with loudspeakers trusted in professional film mixing stages and by enthusiasts seeking the same accuracy and impact used in Hollywood productions. Designed with precision engineering, powerful subwoofers, and immersive surround capabilities, M&K Sound speakers deliver the clarity, dynamics, and realism required for reference-level cinema experiences.

The M&K Sound lineup of on-wall and in-wall speakers for any home theater installations includes THX® Certified Dominus in-wall loudspeaker for very large home cinemas with both vertical and horizontal installation flexibility, complete 5.1 surround and Dolby Atmos systems, high-performance subwoofers, and studio monitors for film and music production in both commercial and home studios.

M&K SOUND®

PRESSRELEASE

M&K Sound · Denmark · www.mksound.com

M&K X+ Series Subwoofers boost any audio environment with reference bass

A defining feature of the M&K DNA is its timbre-matched speaker architecture, allowing installers to mix and match speakers across the lineup seamlessly. This flexibility enables optimized systems for spaces ranging from compact media rooms to fully immersive cinema environments.

Demand for M&K Sound systems continues to grow among installers seeking reliable, reference-quality speakers for premium theater installations with performance and pricing that make high-end cinema sound more attainable.

“We’ve seen incredible demand for M&K Sound from installers and home theater professionals across the U.S.,” said Bryce Young, President of Audio Collective Group. “M&K has earned its reputation as one of the premier names in cinematic sound. Our role is to ensure that installers & customers have the availability, logistics support, and customer service they need to implement these incredible systems into more home theaters & commercial studios across the country.”

M&K SOUND[®]

PRESSRELEASE

M&K Sound · Denmark · www.mksound.com

Through its U.S. distribution infrastructure, Audio Collective Group will support M&K Sound dealers and installers with:

- Improved product availability through dedicated U.S. inventory
- Faster logistics and fulfillment for installers and retailers
- Installer-focused product support and training resources
- Expanded customer service and technical assistance

“The United States is a key market for M&K Sound, and we were looking for a partner that could help us meet the growing demand for our home theater and studio loudspeakers,” said Per Becher, CEO of M&K Sound. “Audio Collective Group brings the operational strength, customer support, and installer relationships necessary to support a brand like M&K. Their focus on service, availability, and logistics will ensure that installers and customers across the country have better access to the systems that have defined cinematic sound for decades.”

With immediate effect, all U.S. distribution of M&K Sound loudspeakers will be handled through Audio Collective Group. For more information on the full product lineup, visit: <https://www.mksound.com/all-products/> For U.S. inquiries, contact an ACG sales representative at sales@audiocollectivegroup.com.

###

About M&K Sound

For more than five decades, M&K Sound has been held in the highest regard by the audio press, film, and music industries, as well as by home users seeking the finest loudspeakers for both music and home theater. Building on a truly unique heritage and strong market presence that transcends the traditional boundaries between professional and consumer audio, M&K Sound pledge to continue to offer performance, reliability, and value for money that are second to none.

About Audio Collective Group

Audio Collective Group is a family of passionate brands united by one mission: to empower the people who make music. This new collective supports a diverse range of music equipment brands, including Warm Audio, RockNRoller[®] Multi-Cart[®], Tegeler, Gotham Audio Cables, and more. The same core team behind Warm Audio’s success has expanded into a broader parent brand, leveraging its manufacturing, licensing, and distribution expertise to support other professional brands seeking partnership and growth. Audio Collective Group provides centralized operational infrastructure, distribution, marketing, and strategic support to enable each of its brands to scale while maintaining their distinct identity and uncompromising commitment to quality.